Litter

Litter can be a real nuisance especially in terms of threats to native animals e.g. animals ingest plastic bags which block up their intestines and they then starve to death. Old string could get stuck around a bird's foot, which cuts off the blood circulation and they may eventually lose their foot. Another example is plastic packaging getting caught around the neck of an animal, which could eventually strangle it.

We all need to help clean up our environment. There are many ways we can contribute to minimising the amount of litter we see around us, such as placing your rubbish in the bins provided and by educating people to do the same thing.
